MOST SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL CLOSED WAS TUESDAY EVENING

Church Greatly Benefited and Fifty-Five Are United With the Membership During Series.

The evangelistic services which began at the Christian church January ninth came to a final close Tuesday evening. A large crowd was present at this the last of a splendid series of meetings and the results attained were even beyond expectations. It is not too much to say that a revival meeting conducted as this one has been, along sane and spiritual lines is a splendid regenerative force in a community and the good accomplished is not confined to any one particular church but reaches out and influences all other spiritual and moral forces within its radius. The ideals of any community are largely the product of the social and religious forces prevailing therein, and if they be ideals of a lofty and ennobling character they must of necessity spring from organized Christian efforts working along altruistic and spiritual lines. Fifty-five people in all were added to the church's membership. Many of these were new converts while others came by letter or statement and others yet by reconnection.

The church auditorium was nicely decorated with plants and flowers and certainly reflected the good taste of the committee in charge. Light refreshments were served at the close of the sermon and a delightful musical program was a very fitting climax to the close of a fine series of meetings.

The pastor of the church delivered twenty-five sermons during this meeting and to his simple yet forceful presentation of the gospel in a large measure may be attributed the good results attained. To John Mullen and his splendid wife's unselfish leadership both the church and the community are indebted.

The song service under Brother L. A. Brittan's leading was well organized and done effective work by making the devotional periods harmonize with the preaching of the gospel. Brother Brittan comes from Danville, Ohio, where he is pastor of the Disciples church in that city. He will carry back with him the most sincere good wishes of the many friends he has made while in Maysville.

The church membership as a whole want to thank the good people of our city of whatever religious faith who came in such numbers and by their

MUSICAL COMEDY OF THE BETTER SORT

"Bringing Up Father" Will Likely Attract a Large Audience at Washington Next Monday Evening.

"Bringing Up Father at the Seashore," the ultra-amusing and rollicking play based on the famous cartoons of George McManus and sponsored by that shrewd and far-seeing manager, Gus Hill, is slated for appearance at the Washington theater next Monday night.

Probably no comics created in the past decade have gained such renown and success as the McManus effusions. They appear daily in newspapers throughout the United States to the joy and entertainment of millions. Now that they have been transplanted to stage their popularity is universal.

In the new piece, which may be described as a musical comedy of the better sort, Jiggs Mahoney is abused and cuffed as of yore. And the cause of his unhappiness, of course, is his termagant better half, Maggie, whose expressions of thrift and repartee naturally add to the merriment of the offering. Twenty exponents of song comprising a beauty chorus of youth, vivacity and charm are introduced, along with a capable company of singers, vocalists, dancers, comedians and funsters. Three acts are required to set the ball of mirth a-rolling and to keep Jiggs from giving his fortune away with the carelessness and abandon of his birth and station.

presence contributed so much to the good fellowship and community spirit of the meeting to say nothing of their inspiration to the preacher. The city papers have been very generous with their space and have been an important factor in final results. We thank them for their cooperation in a good cause.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Mullen will lead the meeting and all are invited to be present.

LOCAL MARKET IS SHADE LOWER, WITH OFFERINGS POOR

Average Price Both Yesterday and Today Shows Slight Decline—Very Poor Quality of Tobacco Is Being Offered.

Prices on the local tobacco market were a shade lower both today and yesterday due, in most part at least, to the very poor quality of the tobacco being offered for sale on the present breaks. Because of a slight increase in the price offered for low grades a few days ago, there has been more of this quality offered during the past two days than at any time since the opening of the market and while these grades have sold well considering their quality, it has had a general tendency to pull the averages down.

Sales were held today at the Central and sales will block this afternoon at the Home and the Planter's houses. Farmers were generally satisfied and when compared with prices maintaining on the smaller markets in this district, they were pleased.

PROBE OF NIGHT RIDING CONTINUED UNTIL FEB. 21

Investigation Held in Bath County Temporarily Stops Because of Inability to Get Witnesses.

Owingsville, Ky., Feb. 3. — Because of difficulty in securing service on more witnesses, six of whom live in the adjoining county of Fleming, the court of inquiry into the night rider invasion of ten nights ago was finally adjourned Wednesday and fresh subpoenas were ordered for all of the known witnesses directing them to appear before the grand jury here February 21.

The decision to suspend the investigation was reached at a conference among Judge J. L. Atchison, who has presided; County Attorney Daniel W. Doggett, and Commonwealth's Attorney W. C. Hamilton, of Mt. Sterling, who have prosecuted the investigation. They agreed that the grand jury would have more general powers and could handle the situation with greater facility. Its session is near, and since the circuit court then will be convened, it offered the most direct means of handling the situation, they believed.

A report has been sent to the Governor on the proceedings of the court, and a stenographic record of the testimony of the eight witnesses examined was included. It is reliably stated that no one of the witnesses was able to identify any of the band of twenty night riders. County Attorney Doggett said that the search for evidence would not be suspended, and that the authorities had hopes of unearthing important evidence before the grand jury meets.

WHISKY CASE TO BE HEARD IN APRIL BY FEDERAL JURY

Men Implicated in Local Whisky Haul Waive an Examination Before Commissioner and Go Direct to Federal Grand Jury.

Harry Pelzer, A. C. Smith, George M. Diener and W. H. Farwick, all of whom were arrested here by Federal authorities on charges of violating the Volstead act, were taken directly before Mrs. Bell, Federal Commissioner at Covington, upon their arrival there yesterday. They immediately waived an examination and Mrs. Bell fixed their bail at one thousand dollars each which they promptly gave for their appearance before the Federal grand jury at Covington on April 5th. Local men who delivered the whisky to Covington yesterday by truck returned home last night. They made a very quick trip considering the condition of the roads, leaving here at 1:30 and arriving in Covington about 6 o'clock. No stops were made after the truck left the police station in this city until it pulled up in front of the Federal building in Covington where the Prohibition Agents were awaiting them.

Officials are of the opinion that all of the liquor which left Newport in the confiscated truck has not as yet been recovered and other developments may yet come in this same case within a few days.

CENTRAL MEAT MARKET SOLD BY MR. W. W. WEIS

Mr. Fred Cablish Will Enter the Retail Meat Business with Mr. Lee Hanna as His Partner.

A deal was completed Wednesday evening whereby Mr. Fred Cablish and Mr. Lee Hanna, as partners become the owners of the Central Meat Market in Market street near Third, they having purchased that business from Mr. W. W. Weis, who has most successfully conducted this business for a number of years.

The purchasers of this popular meat market are among the best known of local business men. Mr. Cablish for many years has been dealing with the people of Maysville in a retail business. For several years he conducted a grocery store in the Cox building and there he proved himself a most efficient merchant and one who was appreciated by his customers.

Mr. Hanna is an expert at the meat business, having been employed at the Central Market for some time and having proven himself very capable in that line. The new firm will take charge on February 14th. Mr. Weis has not as yet determined what he will do in the future but his many friends hope he will remain in Maysville.

WINNES JURY MAY BE HELD TOGETHER LONGER FOR VERDICT

No Indication This Morning that Judge Davis Intended to Dismiss Jury Today—No Indication That Verdict May Come.

The jury in the case against Dr. H. C. Winnes charged with the murder of Laura Parsons still appeared to be hung this morning and there was no indication that a verdict might be reached at any early time.

Statements are still current that 11 jurors stand for acquittal. The jurors returned to the court room twice Wednesday afternoon and reported they were unable to agree, and each time were sent back to their room.

Judge W. T. Davis addressed the jurors this morning. He told them "to try again," saying he hoped they would try to reach a decision so as to obviate the necessity of trying the entire case over again.

"I am not worried," said Dr. Winnes. "The only thing I have to do is to take it cool and easy."

"A second trial would impose an almost unbearable hardship on him," said D. C. Jones, one of the veterinarian's attorneys. "As long as he is under this charge he will not return to work for the state, and he has to work for a living."

The court gave no indication that he intended dismissing the jury today in case they could not agree.
